

ABSTRACT

A catheter based stent placement system in which the catheter has a clear or translucent transition zone for visual inspection of the stent when placed in the catheter.